Upcoming

ORCID

Connecting Research and Researchers

Are you a published author? Get an ORCID!

We will be launching more information shortly, but now is the time for all NOAA researchers, authors, and publishers to get their ORCID iD (Open Researcher and Contributor ID). This gives you a way to reliably, unambiguously and permanently connect your name(s) with your work, including publications, grants, education, etc.

Staff Corner

Hi, I'm Omar - library technical services contractor with MPF-ZAI working at NOAA Central Library and I've been here for 20 years!

I've been one of the in-person staff for much of these past two years managing our physical collection and working to get our library ready for reorganization changes. I take inventory, physically move and assess the collection and assist in digitization of our older, rare material.

Looking forward to sharing our digitizing efforts and newly accessible historical materials.
